Art Unit: 1615

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1, 2 and 4-15, 17-20, and 22-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for the water soluble polymer, polyvinylpyrrolidone, does not reasonably provide enablement for any water-soluble polymer. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. Applicants has described a water-soluble polymer as being effective in the claimed invention. A single water-soluble polymer, polyvinylpyrrolidone has been disclosed. The specification does not describe what properties or characteristics enable one to determine the particular effective water soluble polymer. The disclosure of a single species is not a basis for claiming a generic concept. Claims broadly reciting water soluble polymer are not commensurate in scope with the disclosure.

Art Unit: 1615

Claims 3, 16 and 21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 1, 2, 4-15, 17-20 and 22-46 are rejected.
